More Pop-ups planned

Last Saturday morning, more than 100 local people took the opportunity to #GrabAJab when we held a Pop-up Covid Vaccination at Jorvik Gillygate Practice on Stonebow in York city centre. More than half of those who attended received their first dose, which demonstrates the important role that Pop-Up Clinics play in encouraging patients who've not taken up the offer of a jab previously to come forward. Younger people have told us that they prefer to attend at weekends, so we'll be holding Pop-up Clinics at the Jorvik Gillygate Practice for the next two Saturdays (7 and 14 August), from 9am to 12 noon. These clinics are for first and second doses of the Pfizer and AstraZeneca vaccines, and are open to anyone turning 18 years of age in the next three months and above.

Please help us spread the word about the Pop-up Clinics and remind people that the York Vaccination Centre at Askham Bar is open daily, from 8am to 8pm. You don't need an appointment to attend either the Vaccination Centre or the Pop-Up Clinics. In fact, you don't even need to be registered with a GP - simply walk in and #GrabAJab!

Here in York, we've now given 74 per cent of 30 to 39 year olds and 67 per cent of 18 to 29 year olds their first doses. This is all the more impressive when you consider that it's just six weeks since 18 to 29 year olds were invited along for their jabs!

Pregnant?

Have your COVID-19 vaccines!

It is important to have both doses of your COVID-19 vaccine to protect you and your unborn baby.

COVID-19 infection is currently circulating and can be serious for pregnant women.

Thousands of pregnant women have been safely vaccinated in the UK and worldwide.

Call 119 or go online to www.nhs.uk/conditions/coronavirus-covid-19/coronavirus-vaccination/ to register for your vaccination appointment. You can also attend walk in, mobile or pop up vaccination clinics in your area.

Encouraging pregnant women to get a jab

In keeping with the national Public Health England campaign to encourage pregnant women to come forward for their vaccinations, we're spreading the word at a local level too. Covid-19 can be serious for pregnant women, so it's important to have both doses to protect yourself and your unborn child because. Thousands of pregnant women across the UK and around the world have been safely vaccinated.

However, we understand that some women will have questions and concerns. That's why we always have clinicians on hand for people to talk to; our friendly team are here to help.

Providing information in multiple languages

As part of the drive to encourage those who - for a variety of reasons - have not yet taken up the offer of a Covid-19 vaccination to come forward, Doctors of the World has made this video. It explains how to register with a GP and book a Covid vaccination, and, because it's important that everyone is able to access information in their own language, the video is available in several different languages, all of which can be found on the Doctors of the World website and easily shared with your friends, family and colleagues via WhatsApp.

Doctors of the World, in partnership with the British Red Cross, has produced motion graphic videos with key information on how to register with a GP and book a COVID-19 vaccine.

Please share widely so that everyone can access this important information in their own language. You can also find written translated advice here.

#OurCovidCommunity

Our Memorial Garden at the York Vaccination Centre continues to take shape and we're very grateful to volunteers from Aviva and Team York Cares for giving up their time to help us create a relaxing space for our staff, volunteers and patients to enjoy.

Embracing green transport solutions

It's great to see so many of the Nimbuscare team making use of the e-scooters that are currently being trialled in York city centre as part of a Department for Transport pilot scheme. Working with TIER, City of York Council has partnered with the University of York, York St John University, North Yorkshire Police and York Hospital to provide people who live or work in the city with this environmentally friendly mode of transport. So far, 100 eScooters have been deployed, with more eScooters and eBikes to come. Renting one cost riders £1 to unlock the vehicle, and just 15 pence per minute travelled. As part of our commitment to minimising the impact of our activities on the environment, we're currently in discussion with Tier and City of York Council to see how we can support this excellent initiative further.

*Thank you all for your hard work.
